

Now You Can Buy Art in the Form of Flowers

Just in time for the opening of the 9th Berlin Biennale, Paloma Powers present their own twist with floral art. The concept is simple: five limited edition bouquets by five featured artists including Monira Al Qadiri, Asger Carlsen, Rachel De Joode, Sara Ludy, and Amalia Ulman. Each bouquet has a different and individual take on design and presentation, according to each artist's individual taste. From a bouquet that resembles a deep-sea creature to one that is modeled after a pigeon's nest, there is a bouquet available to fit every and any occasion.

These limited edition bouquets can be ordered online at www.palomapowers.com and hand delivered by couriers within Berlin.

All images courtesy of Alexander Coggin